Selective Conscription Decided

R. Borden

Premier Borden Announces Form of Conscription To Raise 50,000 Men.

Ottawa, May 18.—Late in his speech in the house of commons announced that the government had decided, and would early introduce a measure of conscription for Canada. He said that it would be necessary now to invoke the authority of a conservative measure to ensure the providing of re-enforcements of Canadian troops at the front in the proper number.

He had promised this to Great Britain, and he was determined to see that this promise was fulfilled.

He stated that within a few days a measure would be introduced in the house calling for conscription on a selective basis for the raising of not less than 50,000 men and not more than 100,000.

Now, it is unfortunate that we have not, in the English language, a pronoun of common gender which we can use properly in the "third person singular." But this circumstance does not justify the use of the outlandish combination illustrated in the above sample sentence.
Scarcely a day passes during which we do not hear used this weird combination of "anyone" and "they," where they is made to serve for the third singular personal pronoun. Of course, it would be rather awkward to employ the phrase "he, or she," on every occasion when we might require to indicate the third singular personal pronoun of indefinite gender. But there is no reason why we should not regularly use the masculine form of the pronoun in such case —the feminine form being UNDER-STOOD as an alternative, where the gender is common or indefinite.
Grammatical form would thus be violated, but could anyone reasonably raise objection on social or ethical grounds—even in these days of "woman suffrage." HANYONE

Auto Owners Organize

At a largely-attended meeting of automobile owners and others, held at the office of Inspector Junget on Wednesday afternoon, the organization of the Crows' Nest Pass Automobile Association took place. The chair was occupied by John Brown, while John R. Smith acted as secretary pro-tem. On motion it was decided to form an association as above named, and T. M. Burnett, of Bellevue, was unanimously elected president of the new organization.
John Brown, of Frank, was elected vice-president, and J. R.
Smith, of Blairmore as secretary-treasurer. The following were elected as executive committee: Dr. Allan Ross, Hillcrest; A. M. Morrison, Coleman; H. Lambirth, Frank; W. H.
Chappell and Inspector Junget, Blairmore; and Dr. R. K. Lillie, Coleman.

A membership fee of $3 was decided upon, and twenty-five names were immediately enrolled.

The main purpose of the new organization is to the better beenabled to place before the proper authorities the needs of the district in the matter of roads, and it is the intention to immediately get in touch with similar organizations at Lethbridge, Macleod and other points, with a view to co-opera-

AMERICAN PRINCE PRAISES THE VALOR OF OUR CANADIAN TROOPS

GREAT ADMIRATION FOR RARE COURAGE SHOWN

Canada's Sons Have Won for Liberty More Than Added Territory, but a Victory Which Absorbs German Idea That The World Can Be Reconstructed by Material Force

In a lengthy editorial under the caption "Well done, Canada," the New York Tribune says:

"Every American will feel a thrill of admiration and a touch of honest envy at the achievements of the Canadian troops about Arras on Easter Sunday and the following day."

"The glory of the Canadian fight at the Ypres salient has been too little appreciated on our side of the northern frontier. Rarely in history have troops, volunteer troops, suddenly exposed to a flank attack through no fault of their own, but by the collapse of their neighbors, had to bear a more terrific blow than that which followed the first gas attack. Yet in this case of confusion, assailed by the appalling poison of German making, the Canadian volunteers stood and died as the British regulars had stood and died in the greater battle of Ypres of 1914."

"And now the Canadians have swept up the famous Ypres ridge, which halted the French veterans of Flanders and proved too great an obstacle for the German offensive. The offensive fighter France has yet produced in the war. After long months of waiting the Canadians have had their hour. They have had a chance to avenge their comrades, crucified by German brutes in German camps, who have had an opportunity to write the name of Canada on the war map of Europe and in Germany will be remembered—in Germany quite as much as in America."

"We shall know later at what price this achievement was accomplished, but no price will be too high and for Canada this day of victory will have a lasting value. For the price, its value will be less than for the British Empire."

"Nearly three-quarters of a million of Canadian and Australian troops have responded to the call of the British Empire, more than half of them wearing the Canadian Maple Leaf. German plotting, German scheming, the wise plan of the professors on paper and the German soldiers on the map, have been an act to speak to Germany."

"Americans will feel a certain envy in the thought that Canada has distanced us in reaching the battle line, which is the frontier of our common civilization. We shall take what comfort we may from the knowledge that among the Canadian forces are a considerable contingent of citizens of the United States, and as our vanguard, we shall trust, of that American army which is in due course to take up the fight in the French front. They are serving in worthy company."

"No praise of Canadian achievement can be exclusive. From the plain and from the mountains, from the cities and the prairies Canada has poured out her thousands and her hundreds of thousands; she has sent across the ocean an army greater than Napoleon could muster on any battlefield; her volunteer regiments have shown that same stubborn and tenacious quality which is the glory of the British army."

"Canada's sons have won for liberty not merely the right to live in French territory, but a victory which makes answer to the German idea that the world can be reconstructed without regard to the spirit of man, merely by material force."

"Our entrance into the war should make a new bond between the Canadians and ourselves."

How Canadians Save

The Thrift Campaign Has Proven Eminently Satisfactory

The splendid response of the people of Canada to the thrift campaign initiated by the government is emphasized in a memorandum issued by the Dominion Department of Finance. It is as follows:

"That the thrift campaign is proving eminently successful is shown by the returns of savings in chartered banks, and the number and amount of war savings certificates and debenture stock issued by the Department of Finance. The total savings in Canadian chartered banks at the end of February amounted to $1,300,000,000 in round figures, as compared with $1,100,000,000 at the end of January. This shows an increase in the savings of the people during the last two years of no less than $200,000,000. In addition, nearly 80,000 war savings certificates have been sold aggregating $5,500,000, and five per cent. debenture stock aggregating $5,500,000. To this there should be added the amounts of the two previous war loans, which aggregated $200,000,000. On the whole, it would appear from these figures that over $500,000,000 has been saved by the people of Canada during the past two years."

Immediately after the war women in France will be permitted to vote on an equality with men at municipal elections.

Die as Bravely as They Fight

How Canadians Meet Greatest Test of Manhood

How do Canada's sons meet their fate death when it comes? asks Lord Lytton, special correspondent of the Canadian Press.

Everyone knows what honor they have brought to the Dominion by their courage in battle and their cheerfulness and adaptability in camp and field.

What of the last and greatest test of manhood; the inevitable encounter that awaits us all, from which only in spirit can hope to emerge victorious?

Chaplains of the Canadian corps with whom I have spoken say without hesitation that Canada's sons who pass out, in the field and in the ambulances and hospitals immediately behind the front, die as bravely as they fight.

"I have yet to hear one of these mortally wounded men express fear of death," said a chaplain who has knelt in the field by the side of dying men wherever Canadians have fought, at the Ypres, at the Somme, at Festubert, and who wears the ribbon of the Military Cross.

"Most of them," he added "have thought of the other side as men will think of death daily by the hour in many turns. In most cases mortally wounded men are mentally alert when they go out. I recall one young fellow with whom I was speaking of spiritual things—both of us knowing that he had but a few hours to live—saying in answer to my assurance that it was into God's hands he was passing:

"It will not matter to me to compare it with this."

"Many of the men have little knowledge of creeds and religious observances, but I have met many who did not understand the significance of the Cross. He had never been to church, but he had read in the lessons learned there most of the men I met at the end."

They are not given to self-pity. Though of home and of their loved ones, especially of the mother, are often the last in their consciousness. In one case, a young man who was greatly distressed over the blank death would leave in the life of his fiancée. The general note is that of unflinching acceptance of the inevitable.

"Another chaplain, speaking of his missions to dying men, said: 'We did not send over all the saints in Canada to do our share of the fighting. Some of our men have been hard cases, but I have yet to hear one avow himself an infidel or a unbeliever in the hereafter. The men have the instinct of immortality.'

The testimony of Canadian field chaplains as to how the men face the perils of the front is of much interest. The sixty-five chaplains present on duty represent all the important branches of the church: Unitarian, Protestant, and Catholic, Anglican and Methodist, Presbyterian and Baptist. They hold services for the men in the field and under the shell fire, comfort and pray for the relatives of those who have fallen, and in addition operate a system of canteens and cinema entertainments, by which a good deal of the mental of the Y.M.C.A. staff is represented by the chaplains' system is particularly recognized, and its results are attested by the army chaplains.

Addresses Civil Engineers

Analysis of the Railway Situation by Mr. W. F. Tyte, C.E.

In a paper presented to the Canadian Society of Civil Engineers at W.F. Tyte, formerly Chief Engineer of the Canadian Pacific, gives a mass of statistics of railway situation in this country. From his years of experience thinking and solving railway problems, he has brought out the outstanding railway engineers in Canada. Mr. Tyte has had not only the aid of the engineer but that of the economist as well.

Amongst Mr. Tyte's summarized comments are:

The National Transcontinental, the Grand Trunk Pacific and the Canadian Northern Railways are unable to earn their operating expenses and their fixed charges. Canada has built, and is operating, the first of the great trunk lines in North America, and the various provinces have guaranteed the principal and interest of most of the lines.

The failure of these lines is due to the duplication of lines by all the railways. The Canadian Northern is the only one of the lines that is not duplicated. The failure of these lines is due to the duplication of lines by all the railways.

Hundreds of Women Who Went to England Returned to Canada

When it is possible to write it, one of the most interesting chapters in our history will describe how Canadian women and children in England, who for many reasons would have been much better off in their own country, were returned to the Dominion.

Great effort towards effecting this has just been accomplished by the British and Canadian authorities, and the result that hundreds of women and children who had come to look upon residence in England as one of the best ways of doing their duty, were returned to the Dominion.

Many took the risk at the last moment, but on the other hand, a far larger number clamored for admission into the party. The authorities found themselves eventually so embarrassed with applications that further supplies had to be reduced. They embrace all classes.

There were wives of fighting men with several children, who had to be sent to England early in the war and had been staying with English relatives or friends, and where the authorities found it difficult to find work for them. There were not a few who had been doing really capable service in England, but whose work was no longer valuable in Canada.

It was a motley crowd, from all points of view, which the authorities dealt with, and the labor connected with the applications was truly gigantic, especially as it had to be done in double quick time. However, everything is successfully accomplished, and the return of the women and children to the Dominion is a most interesting story of the war.

There are, of course, differences in soil, but in the main, the work of making back-lot gardens this spring might as well be reminded of something that happened to a Kansas back-lot gardener. He planted pumpkins. They grew. They continued to grow until they ran over the neighboring back lots and climbed the porches of neighboring houses and trespassed on the alley and the street. Everybody within the block made free with that man's pumpkins, and yet a petition was sent to the town council asking that he be forbidden to grow things this year. He has compromised the matter by erecting a close wire fence around his premises, and the neighbors are now afraid his pumpkins will grow up wards until they shut out the afternoon sun.—From the Christian Science Monitor.

Germany's Bessing Sin It was Schiller who said, many years before the military caste began to dominate Germany's affairs, that the besetting sin of his countrymen was envy.—From the Wall Street Journal.

It was a motley crowd, from all points of view, which the authorities dealt with, and the labor connected with the applications was truly gigantic, especially as it had to be done in double quick time. However, everything is successfully accomplished, and the return of the women and children to the Dominion is a most interesting story of the war.

There are, of course, differences in soil, but in the main, the work of making back-lot gardens this spring might as well be reminded of something that happened to a Kansas back-lot gardener. He planted pumpkins. They grew. They continued to grow until they ran over the neighboring back lots and climbed the porches of neighboring houses and trespassed on the alley and the street. Everybody within the block made free with that man's pumpkins, and yet a petition was sent to the town council asking that he be forbidden to grow things this year. He has compromised the matter by erecting a close wire fence around his premises, and the neighbors are now afraid his pumpkins will grow up wards until they shut out the afternoon sun.—From the Christian Science Monitor.

Germany's Bessing Sin It was Schiller who said, many years before the military caste began to dominate Germany's affairs, that the besetting sin of his countrymen was envy.—From the Wall Street Journal.

Writs Issued For Election in Alberta

Writs were issued on Monday of this week for an election in Alberta, to be held in all the constituencies, except two, on June 7th, the nominations being one week earlier—May 31st.
There will be two deferred elections, Athabasca and Peace River.

Men Needed For The Cavalry

One of the finest Cavalry Units in the Dominion of Canada is the 34th Fort Garry Horse, with headquarters at Winnipeg, from which regiment large numbers of men have been sent Overseas, many of whom are now doing hard work as cavalry in the present advance that is taking place in France.

A call has come for a large number of cavalrymen to be supplied by the Fort Garry Horse and this will give those who desire to join and ride a chance to go Overseas at an early date, if they wish.

It is not necessary for the recruit to be able to ride, as on joining the Service Squadron, 34th Fort Garry Horse, a well trained horse is allotted to him and he is taught riding by some of the best experts in Western Canada; and it is a well known fact that the men of this squadron have such a neat and drossy appearance as to command the attention of the citizens of Winnipeg and other places where they are seen.

Should any of the men in this district desire to become identified with this squadron, the officer commanding, Major F. W. Stoebe, whose headquarters are Service Squadron, 34th Fort Garry Horse, Tuxedo Park, Winnipeg, will be glad to hear from them by letter or wire, and transportation will be furnished to recruits from point of enlistment to the City of Winnipeg.

Medicine Hat Stampede

Greatest Yet Will Be Held—Famous Horses and Riders—100 Hours of Fun Announced

What will probably be the last exhibition of its kind in Canada will take place July 10, 11, 12 and 13, at Medicine Hat when the most stupendous Stampede ever pulled off in Canada will take place. In addition to the facts that are found in an advertisement in another column, we are informed that already arrangements have been made to have the best and "worst" horses in America and the best riders in the world at this Stampede. Such "bad" horses as Ray, Gray Eagle, Wino-Mah, Scar Head, Moose Jaw, Old Toronto will be ridden by such famous riders as Emery La Grande, the world's champion; A. J. Bryson, Canada's bestall round cowboy; Hulse Island, Ed. Lindsay, the champion bulldog-ger of the States, and many others—both men and women.

In addition to the Stampede proper, there will be an agricultural and stock exhibition, a race meet and a baseball tournament for the championship of Western Canada. The Elks will hold street carnivals each night so that there will be no let up the fun either day or night.
Every provision is being made to provide board and room accommodation for all who go and the railways are giving exceptionally cheap rates for the event.

Early Fishing Season

The fishing season in Alberta will open sixteen days earlier than has been the case. Hitherto July 1 has been the opening day, but the following dispatch from Ottawa, makes June 14 the opening day and closes the season October 16, or fifteen days earlier than in the past:

"The special fishery regulations of Alberta and Saskatchewan have been amended so as to provide that in waters in that portion of Alberta northward from the international boundary line to and including the Bow river and its tributaries, no one shall catch trout, other than lake trout, or grayling (locky, Mountain white fish), between October 16 and June 14."

This action has been taken by the Dominion government at the request of Alberta anglers, who have pointed out that the spawning season of the grayling is the fall, and that both bull trout and out trout spawn at varying times, but principally before the middle of June. The bull trout is as likely, however, to spawn late in October as at any other time. In fact, there is no keeping exact track of the spawning periods of the Alberta fish. The only sure method of preserving the game fish is the closing of streams now and again. Recently the fishermen of Alberta sent a largely signed petition to Ottawa, praying that the season open and close at earlier dates, and the authorities have considered their application favorably.

Appalling Losses Of The Germans

Germany lost 200,000 men killed, wounded and captured in the period from April 16 to May 1, on the French front alone. In two week since May 1, it is estimated, her additional losses have been proportionately greater even than this staggering mortality. Figures on which this estimate is based are those of headquarters. They are conservative. The totals may be much more.

Between April 16 and 27 it is known the Germans were forced to withdraw 20 divisions (approximately 300,000 men) from the front, replacing them with fresh reserves. Since that date more than a dozen additional divisions have been similarly replaced. Many German divisions have been practically wiped out.

Germany has withdrawn forty divisions (approximately 600,000), from the Russian east front and hurried them to France to oppose the Franco-British offensive, according to information from Russian headquarters featured today in Petrograd newspapers.

The Canadian Red Cross Society

Demands For Supplies Greater Than Ever

What every man and woman of Alberta must know are the needs of the Alberta Red Cross. Mrs. Waagen, Superintendent of Supplies of the Alberta Provincial Branch, speaking in Calgary the other day said—"The last official report of our Red Cross Commissioner, published in the Red Cross Bulletin for February, showed that in order to meet demands, 4803 more cases of Red Cross supplies had been issued from our London warehouses than were received in one month. A further advice stated: "In consequence of the depletion of our stores, we were only able to supply one half our customary 5,000 cases to France during December."
"Our needs are greater than they ever were."
"Our stores are depleted."
"Demands upon the society are increasing."
"Money is required for the purchase of drugs, medicines and hospital equipment."
"Supplies are urgently needed." The price of raw material has doubled, therefore, more money is required to purchase the materials out of which supplies are made.

Many women in England and France who are able to give time to making supplies are now engaged in other work. How are Canadian women to make good this shortage of workers? Last year, during the summer months, our output of Red Cross supplies in Alberta decreased 10 per cent. This is because we are an agricultural community, and during the summer months our country women are obliged to give their time to farming, and cannot do the same amount of sewing for the Red Cross.
What will happen if our supplies decrease this year?

Our men at the front will suffer unless every possible effort is made to avoid such a calamity.
They will pay the price of this shortage.
We require the combined efforts of every man, woman and child in the community to assist our work.
Our City and Town women must redouble their efforts during the next few months to make good the inevitable shortage of work from the country.

Every woman who can do so, is urged to take her place in the ranks of Red Cross workers. At our Provincial Depot alone a staff of 500 workers a week is required to handle the supplies which are being sent forward.

Rev. W. T. Young and George Pattinson motored to Macleod last week end, to attend the district

It is with deep regret that the citizens of Frank learn of the death of Ernie Blais, who paid the supreme sacrifice on the fields of Flanders. Ernie was the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. A. I. Blais, who feel the loss very keenly. Our sympathy goes out to the bereaved parents and brothers and sister, in the great loss they have sustained.

Word was received by John Mc-Phail this week, that his younger brother James had died at sea while on the way from England to Canada. The body was buried at sea. James was a former resident of Blaimore, and later of Calgary, and went over to England last year to work in a munitions factory.

he is in England and will start for ranch in the Porcupine Hills, was destroyed by fire recently. Mr.

the time of the fire, and most of his household effects were destroyed.

Basketball is one of the leading sports practiced at the village school these days. Jolly crowds gather at the school after supper, to take a try at this game. Even the older people are talking of playing.

On account of sickness, Miss Alice Cleland has been forced to lay off from her position at the telephone office for a few days. We are glad to say that Miss Cleland is getting on nicely and will have restored her usual health in a few days. Miss Gladys Haines is acting as operator during Miss Cle-land's absence.

Friday last was Arbor Day. We did not have to be told this. All we had to do was to pass the Corvey school and see the work of cleaning the grounds, burying the rubbish in bonfires and see the new fence go up round the grounds; and the young trees being set out.
Little, big, old and young were busy. So well did they work that the principal took a number of the larger pupils for a stroll, searching and studying the beauties of nature, botanizing flowers, etc. Every child seemed eager and much interested. It wouldn't be a bad idea to have Arbor Day at the homes occasionally, would it?

A number of young girls met and organized a society called "The Red Cross Juniors." Their object is to try to learn to do work that will benefit the soldiers. At present they are learning to knit, and appear very enthusiastic and energetic in their undertaking.
They meet at the home of a friend every two weeks. The meeting lasts one hour, the rest of the afternoon they spend in recreation.
Lunch is always served at these meetings, the little girls preparing it themselves. We would like to have any little girl who is over eight years of age to come and join and thus enjoy the work and the play.

While in Washington recently, General Joffre expressed himself as very strongly in favor of an expeditionary force of American soldiers being sent to France at the earliest possible moment, on the ground that the sight of an American Army, though small, would cheer the spirits of the allies. In that connection the Spokesman Review of Spokane is emphatically of the opinion Roosevelt—pre-eminently Roosevelt—is the man to lead that first column. He could quickly gather 10,000 or 20,000 men without interfering with the government's general program, and the psychological value of their appearance in London and Paris, commanded by an ex-president of the United States, would warm the hearts and cheer the spirits of the French and British peoples.

The Municipal Hospitals Act

How to incorporate a Hospital District and Provide for Operation of a Hospital.

Under the Municipal Hospitals Act passed at the recent Session of the Legislature, the Minister of Municipal Affairs is authorized to divide the Province into Hospital Districts. He is also charged with the responsibility of supplying plans, specifications, estimates, advice on sites and management and such other assistance as he may be able to give. The bringing into existence of a hospital depends upon the initiative of the people. When only one municipality is concerned, all that is necessary to initiate action is a petition signed by twenty-five electors and agreed to by the municipal council. When more than one council is concerned, the consent of the other council or councils is necessary, as well as the petition from the electors within the municipality. The preliminary work being done, the council shall appoint a hospital board. In the case of one municipality undertaking the work, the board shall consist of three members of the council and three electors outside the council. When there are two municipalities in the proposed district each council shall appoint three representatives, one being a member of the council, and two electors not councillors. When the appointments are made the names are sent to the Minister who names a convenor and the place and date of meeting for organization. The board has power to appoint such officials as may be necessary and to fix the amount of remuneration.

To determine the site and arrange for purchase of same.
To arrange for the acquiring or erection of a suitable building.
To make arrangements with any existing hospital, if preferred to undertake the establishment and maintenance of a separate institution.

To engage medical practitioners and nurses.
To arrange for the financing of the hospital, the preparation of estimates, etc., the municipality providing the money as for other municipal enterprises.

The levy for capital expenditure shall not be higher than two mills on the dollar.

As soon as the plans are approved by the Minister of Municipal Affairs, the council shall prepare a by-law for submission to the electors, which must be voted on within three months.

For full information as to how to arrange for and conduct a Municipal Hospital under this Act, apply to

JOHN FERRIE,
Deputy Minister of Municipal Affairs, Edmonton.

Live Merchants Make Their Advertising of Immediate Value To You.

They know that "purse interest" is very strong with you these days. If they are able to offer you a money-saving opportunity they will tell you about it promptly in their advertisements.

They know that you expect them to keep you in touch with their "store news." They will give you the store news while it is fresh and valuable to you---while it is current news.

They know that you buy "in the light"--that you want to know about commodities and their selling prices--that you have abandoned the old habit of "shopping around" and that you visit stores with previously formed plans for your buying.

Knowing these things, live merchants tell you their store news in every issue of this paper.

The Old Home Paper

Harper's Magazine, in a recent issue says that our little country paper, seems dim and miserably provincial to strangers; yet we who read them read in their lines the sweet, intimate story of life. And all these touches of nature makes us wondrous kind. It is the country newspaper, bringing together daily the threads of the town's life, weaving them into something rich and strange and setting the pattern as it weaves, directing the loom, and giving the cloth its color by mixing the lives of all the people in its color pot--it is this country paper that reveals us to ourselves, that keeps our country minds open and our country faith stronger.

When a girl at the glove counter married the boy in the wholesale house the news of their wedding is read for a forty-line notice, and the forty lines in the country paper give them well respect. When in the course we know that their baby is a twelve pounder named Grover or Theodore or Woodrow, we have that neighborly feeling that breeds the real democracy. When we read of death in that home we can mourn with them that mourn. When we see them moving upward in the world, into a firm, and out toward the country club neighborhood, we rejoice with them that rejoice. Therefore men and brethren, when you are riding through this vale of tears upon the California limited, and by chance pick up the little country newspaper with its meagre telegraph service of three or four thousand words--or at best fifteen or twenty thousand; when you see its array of countryside items, its interminable local stories; its tireless editorials on the waterworks or schools, the street railroad, the crops, and the city printing don't throw down the contemptible little rag with the verdict that there is nothing in it. But know this, and know it well, if you could take the clay from your eyes and read the little paper as it is written, you would find all of God's beautiful scowling struggling aspiring world in it and what you saw would make you touch the little paper with reverent hands.

by the dealers.

The Refrigerator that is guaranteed to produce as cool an atmosphere as an ice refrigerator--but does not require ice, simply a little water.

The materials used in the construction of the Snow Ball Iceless Refrigerator, when combined with water, produces a hard, porous substance, the nature of which is to resist heat and remain cool. In addition to the special materials used, the unique construction in accordance with this new invention makes effective a physical action which takes place to draw away heat and keep the interior cool. The application of water poured on the cover about once in twenty-four hours, makes the cooling process continually effective.

The Snow Ball Iceless Refrigerator produces a cold air, as the interior walls are lined with metal and the cooling element is outside the inner lining instead of being inside. This Refrigerator is made so as to be sanitary and easily cleaned, and permits such ventilation as the foods within require.

What might have been a very serious fire occurred on Monday afternoon. While the electrical storm was at its height, lightning struck the residence of Mrs. Walsh, in West Blairmore, setting fire to the building. Several trees nearby were also split, by the same flash, and the noise of the falling trees attracted the attention of neighbors who at once noticed smoke issuing from the roof of the house and made the alarm. In a few minutes a volunteer fire brigade was at the scene and two good streams of water were brought to play on the fire, which was as yet smouldering. A number of men were on the scene and in a short time had all the effects safely removed from the house, so that very little damage was done the furnishings. Considerable damage was done the building by both fire and water.

We know of a private bank in Saskatchewan that is making loans to men who could not secure loans through branches of our chartered banks, and it has been making these loans for years. Further, it has been a paying business and is in a better condition today than it has ever been before. Therefore we say that until there can be some organization whereby the lender will loan money on character where the financial standing is not sufficient to ensure a loan through the orthodox channels and where the borrower can take the lender into his confidence and get his advice, knowing it is sound, then and only then will we begin to solve some of the more pressing features of farm credit.—The Farmer's Advocate, Winnipeg, Man.

This new Overland Country Club Light Four is a distinctive and smart car in the low priced car class.
The rich gray body, with black fenders and trimmings, is set off to pleasing advantage by red wire wheels that give just the right flash of brilliant color.
